“ Shenanigans indeed! The great West Wing pipe tobacco caper of '76; the infamous Lamplighter champagne glasses theft of New Year's of whatever year that was; hunting; fishing; wine making in the wine cellar(s); slip-sliding up the mountain in a snow storm with a (very) pregnant Angie to the Winter Park cabin. It's been a heckuva journey!

“ So much enjoyed Mr. Reid as a teacher. He was one of the good ones. Yvonne Wells Dalton. Class of 1974.

Angela you may not remember me, I was in Carolyn's AHS 1965 class...please accept my condolences to you and all your family for the loss of Tom.

Although we did not see each other often, always enjoyed our small talk and his smile. I never knew that he too had the same USAF training as I did (1966-1970) and from his obituary information, my guess he was in Brendesi, Italy? If you were with him there part of his time, I am sure you enjoyed some of the amazing sites to see.

It was always apparent to me that when I saw you two together there was a bond few have and am please it was so.

“ Ahhh, Mr. Reid! Or T. Reid, as he wrote on the board in his classroom. One of my favorite teachers at DCHS. Reading about his military service helps me understand what made him a teacher who pushed students to be critical thinkers. He was so smart, funny, and kind but he also expected students to do their best. I babysat for his two boys one time—it may have been his anniversary. The kids were so cute and well behaved and it felt like an honor to be entrusted with the assignment. I can so picture him these 40+ years later, rather unkempt black hair and beard, one dark eyebrow raised high, as if asking the student who spoke, “are you sure about that?”, his round eyes scanning the classroom for a better response. To his family, may your memories of him be a blessing. To his former students and my former classmates, how lucky we were. ❤️ Rest in peace, T. Reid.

He was my favorite teacher in High school and set me on course to discover psychology and life in general. My thoughts and prayers are with him and the ones he left behind. May your family know that you made a big difference in the life of many...and that is what life is all about. RIP Mr. Reid

“ I had the pleasure of teaching with Tom in the social studies department at the Dodge City , senior high school. Tom used a unique approach to his teaching, always challenging students to do their best and broaden their knowledge of all aspects of the social studies that he taught. Our social studies department was the closest knit department that I had worked with during my educational career. We enjoyed getting together at barbecues and social events, and Tom would always have a special activity for those who attended Tom enjoyed life with his wife and family, and with his many friends. to say the least, Tom was a hoot and he will be greatly missed.

“ One time, Tom and several other educators traveled to Canon City to see how they implemented 'block scheduling.' For our evening meal, we ate at Village Inn (I believe.) While the rest of us ordered a meal with dessert, Tom ordered several slices of pie (maybe 5 or 6 slices.) He then ranked them and bought an entire pie of the one he liked best. Wonderful man!

“ My dad, Dan Lehl, always had such fond memories of growing up with his cousin, Tom Reid. They now are reunited to continue their shenanigans in heaven. I wish I had written some of their stories down. They were always up to something. Condolences to the family.
