“ My deepest sympathy is with your family. Mrs. Rebel was a wonderful and caring woman. As a child, I lived in the next block and would shovel snow from her sidewalk, as she was always nice to the neighborhood children. One spring day she was painting and took a break as I walked by and we shared a little chitchat. She offered to let me see her painting and it was beautiful. I ask if she would teach me and for several weeks, I spent an hour or two with her and painted my first and only master peace. No, it was not good but Mrs. Rebel was very encouraging. I still have that painting today and when I look at it, a smile comes to my face. Thank you Mrs. Rebel for the memory and encouragement. God Bless
