“ A lot of my firsts were with Matt; my first beer, cigarette and dip! I learned to fish and hunt with the Clepper’s, our families took vacations together for years. They weren’t lavish like most kids who would brag of going to Disney Land. We would go to Dog Patch USA or Silver Dollar City and our folks would color code our clothes so they could “find us”. I think it was to catch us before we set the place on fire! Lots of great memories with this family and can honestly say they are a big part of who I am today. I will miss Matt immensely and am sad I didn’t get to spend much time with him in our adult lives but God must have needed a highly skilled welder! See you soon brother.
