“ I grew up with Richard "Wayne " We went to church together, played in the neighborhood, went to school together and grew up in a small town sharing many childhood memories. I am extremely sad to hear of his death and send heart felt condolence to his family and friends.

“ Having grown up with Richard - who I always called Monroe - and continuing our close friendship through our 20's until his move to Oklahoma, I can say with absolute certainty and sincerity that he was one of the finest people I have ever known. He was a rock solid friend of the highest character, extremely intelligent, a gifted musical talent and possessed a quick dry wit. I will always treasure his memory and my heart goes out to his family and friends.

Rest in Peace, my friend "Monroe".

With love, Bill Owens

Wayne (as I know him) lived just down a lane from my home in St. Pauls. He played baseball and football with us in the open field behind my house during every summer. He was my classmate and treasured friend. A "Beatles Fanatic" like my good friend Bill Owens, Wayne was a vibrant part of my life's fabric. I extend my greetings and fond remembrances of him to the family. May you be comforted.
