“ You’re going to be so dearly missed, Sherman. As I sit here with tears streaming down my face, I can’t help but smile through the sadness, thinking about all the memories we shared. Boy, do we have a lot of them — going way back to our family reunions. I’ll never forget how we’d sneak off to smoke because we weren’t supposed to smoke in the cabins. We thought we were being so slick, and you always had me laughing. Those are the kind of moments that stay with you forever.

Oh, and how about that time it was me, you, my dad, my best friend Jody, and my little brother Sean taking that trip to Kansas City to see Creed in concert. That right there was such a good time — and you made it even better, sitting up front with Dad. I could’ve sworn you two were cracking up the whole way there. It was just one of those moments I’ll never forget — sharing something we all loved together, that band, that trip, that laughter.

You had such a big heart — always kind, always caring, always genuine. You could light up any room with your humor and your presence. You and your sister were always my favorites, and that will never change.

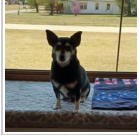

I’ll forever hold on to the laughter, the memories, and the love we shared. You were one of a kind, Sherman, and you’ll always have a special place in my heart. Rest easy, cousin. ❤️

“ Even in his last days and in all his pain, he thought of everyone else besides himself! I will always cherish those memories! He has always thought of someone else in lieu of his own needs! He is an amazing human being! I pray he is embracing God's unconditional love! Rest easy Sherman! One day we will be together again!
