“ Kelly & Brianna, I'm so sorry for your loss. Knowing Bill since 82, as a best friend, shooting pal, and hunting partner. I agree with Bob that you, Kelly and Brianna, meant the world to him. Our prayers are for you both.

“ Dear Kelly and Brianna,

I cannot imagine the pain you are going through at the loss of your husband and Father. As someone else mentioned here, Bill was never so happy as when he married you Kelly and when you came into his life Brianna. Bill adored you both and puffed with pride whenever he spoke of either of you. I have a major hole in my life where Bill used to be but I am sure it minor compared to your grief.

Kelly, you had said Brianna wanted to know more about her Father's life in the Navy. I have spoken with the only other Navy buddy that knew Bill that I have kept in contact with. We were not sure that there was anything we could say but as we talked (and cried) lots of stories came up. I am not sure if you folks would want to hear them but I posted one on Brianna's Facebook page. My writing is not as stylish as Bill's but, hopefully, it was adequate to make the story light and humorous (I also tried very hard to clean it up a little :^)

Bill was my friend since the early seventies and it would be hard to sum up all those years of friendship in a few words. In a nutshell, Bill was the most honest and sincere man I have ever met. If he said he was going to do something, he would do it, plain and simple. If you needed a man you could trust to have your back, there were none more reliable than Bill. If you wanted an honest opinion about something, Bill would give it to you. It sounds old fashioned to say this these days but if ever there was a man of good quality, it was Bill. I don't imagine I am telling you anything you don't already well know.

I wish I was there to put my arms around both you and give you a hug, shed some tears, and raise a glass to toast the one-of-a-kind man we have lost.

Sincerely.... Bob

“Dear Ms. Kelly and Bri, please accept our most sincere condolences and sympathy for your loss. Its difficult to find the right words to comfort you at this time, but we want to let share our loving thoughts. Mr. Will was a gentle giant. We had the pleasure of being apart of the beginning of the family of 3 in our Wheatridge, Co days. I never met a man that was more happy being the husband and father! He loved you both so much, it was obvious to all around you. Though now, we are miles apart, we hope you can feel the love and support during this diffucult time. And we will be together soon, to reminise and cherise the fond memeoires of "Mr. Will", a Loving Husband, Devoted, Proud Father, a larger than life size, a heart even bigger, and a calm voice, our Gentle Giant!
